WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. 10, 1862.

We are indebted to the accommodating Agent of Adams Express Company for late papers.

To Wm. COLLIER, of the News Depot, No. 22 1/2 Cherry Street, we are indebted for late papers.

Read the advertisement of Dr. Wood, and also of Dr. Morgan, Dental Surgeons, under the head of "New Advertisements," in this morning's Union.

See the advertisement of Messrs. INGHAM, SWIFT & Co., in to-day's Union, for cotton rags, old rope, gunnies, Hemp, and damaged cotton.

FRESH OYSTERS.—Messrs. CALAN & PITSFIELD have just received another lot of fresh Oysters by express from Louisville. Call early, if you wish to get a good article.

TOM BERRY, conductor on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, brought the train through from Louisville by schedule time yesterday. This is the first schedule time that has been made since the opening of the road.

We were glad to see our esteemed friend, JOHN J. SULLIVAN, Travelling Agent of the Chicago, Iowa and Nebraska Air Line Railroads, in our Sanctum last evening, fresh from Chicago. We return our thanks to him for a late file of interesting papers, and hope his visits will be as often as they are agreeable.

LATE PAPERS.—W. W. THURSDAY, HARDE & Co., R. H. SINGLETON, Wm. COLLIER, and SNYDER & BLAIR, will accept our thanks for late New York, Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville papers in advance of the mail. We are requested to say that Messrs. SNYDER & BLAIR have a few on hand for sale.

THEATRE.—A large, and unusually orderly audience, attended this great night's resort last evening. The different parts were creditably sustained throughout the "Hunchback." The other part of the evening's entertainment went off with rounds of merited applause. The bill for this evening is rare and excellent, being "Don Cesar de Bazan" and "My Neighbor's Wife," also a beautiful dance by the accomplished danseuse, Miss CONSTANTINE. Of course every one will consider it their duty to attend. We are informed that our excellent company is to be strengthened by a tremendous acquisition of talent. This shows enterprise on the part of the worthy manager that will be appreciated by all patrons of the drama.

GENERAL ORDERS.

HEAD-QUARTERS 14TH ARMY CORPS,
DEPARTMENT OF THE CUMBERLAND,
Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 1st, 1862.

General Orders No. 27.

Officers tendering their resignations will hereafter be required to certify:

1st. That they are not indebted to the United States.

2d. That they have no Government property in their possession.

3d. That they have not been absent without leave.

4th. The date to which they were last paid, and that there are no charges against them, which can affect their pay.

A close observance of these rules is necessary to enable resigned officers to draw their pay without delay.

It is the duty of regimental commanders to ascertain the facts in each case, and their approval upon papers of this nature will be considered as a certificate from them, that the statements of the officers making the papers are correct.

Hereafter, in all cases where these instructions are not complied with, the papers will be returned for correction.

By command of

Major-General ROSECRANS.

JULIUS P. GARESCHE,

Assistant Adjutant General and Chief of Staff.

HEAD-QUARTERS 14TH ARMY CORPS,
DEPARTMENT OF THE CUMBERLAND,
Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 1st, 1862.

General Orders No. 28.

A close observance of the following instructions relative to official correspondence, will greatly facilitate the transaction of all official business, and render much more secure and prompt the action desired in any case.

1st. Official communications should treat of but one subject; for it is often necessary to refer each subject treated of, to a different officer for report.

2d. Every communication should be addressed to the authority which has the power to take final action in the case.

3d. It is the duty of intermediate commanders thoroughly to investigate the subject-matter of any paper transmitted through them for the action of superior authority, and to state explicitly the facts elicited by such investigation, and their opinion of the case; as the General Commanding must, in a great measure, be governed by their endorsements. This rule should be rigidly observed.

4th. It has been noticed, with surprise, that many commanding officers permit their names to be signed by others. As the practice is, in itself, essentially irregular, and as it may lead to many difficulties in the future, it must be discontinued. Attention has already been called, in General Orders from these Headquarters, to paragraph 449, Army Regulations; its provisions hereafter will be strictly enforced.

By command of

Major-General ROSECRANS.

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 2, 1862.

General Orders No. 29.

I. The commanding officer of every Corps, Division, and Brigade in this Army will detail from his command a competent officer to act as Topographical Engineer.

The officer so detailed will collect all the information accessible to him, in relation to roads, fords, ferries, bridges, mountain passes, defiles, the general configuration of the country, its resources, etc., and prepare sketches of the same. The information thus collected will be promptly reported to Capt. N. Michler, Chief Topographical Engineer on duty at these Headquarters.

II. There will be likewise detailed in every Corps, Division, and Brigade of this Army, a firm, sensible, and energetic officer as Provost Marshal, with a suitable Provost Guard, whose special duty shall be to put down all straggling, marauding, and pillaging, whether among the officers and soldiers, or among the followers of this army, and to arrest and bring to trial, or, in minor cases, inflict summary punishment on all offenders.

HEAD-QUARTERS 14TH ARMY CORPS,
DEPARTMENT OF THE CUMBERLAND,
Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 3, 1862.

General Orders No. 30.

The following regulations will govern the conduct of all foraging expeditions from this army.

I. Details must be made the day before, and the expedition will start at daylight. The officer commanding will be furnished with a copy of this, and of General Orders, No. 17, from these Headquarters.

11. The officer commanding the escort shall have command of the whole expedition, and will be held responsible for the acts or omissions of every man who goes with it. The Quartermaster and all his assistants are, therefore, to yield him implicit obedience.

III. The Brigade or Regimental Quartermaster, or if he be sick or absent, an officer to represent him, shall, under direction of the officer commanding, have immediate charge of the working parties; the details for which must be made separate and distinct from those of the military escort. Four men, in addition to the teamsters, will be detailed to each wagon. They will remain with, forage for, and load it; and none but they will be allowed to do so. They will carry their arms, ammunition and equipment, and must march on foot as soon as the wagons are loaded. A proper number of officers and non-commissioned officers will be detailed to superintend the working parties.

IV. When a regiment or brigade is detailed for foraging duty, whether as escort or foraging party, every officer, able for duty, must accompany it. This rule is positive.

V. Rolls must be made out, beforehand, of all the officers and men detailed for the expedition, and none but they will be allowed to go with it. No citizen whatever will be permitted to fall in with it, either in or outside the lines.

The rolls must be called at the picket line, both going out and coming in, and all not belonging to the expedition, found with it, will be turned over to the Grand Guard, and sent immediately to the Provost Marshal. Absentees, if caught before the return of the expedition, will be tied behind the wagons, and thus marched back to camp, and there turned over to the Provost Marshal.

The commanding officer when his command shall have passed out, will report the fact to the commander of the Grand Guard; after which, no one claiming to belong to the expedition will be allowed to pass out. A similar report will be made on the return of the expedition; after which, every straggler from it, coming in, will be arrested.

The rolls will again be called after every halt, and at least three times, besides, in the course of the day.

VI. Advance, rear guards, and flankers, will be thrown out on the march, and every precaution be taken against surprise. Whenever a halt is ordered, videttes and sentries will be posted in advance of these outposts; and if there are woods in the neighborhood, they will be patrolled. The main body of the escort will be distributed in the manner best calculated to protect the train, and repel an attack, if attempted. A small cavalry force should, if possible, form part of the escort.

These rules are imperative, and must be rigidly observed. It is of no consequence whether danger be anticipated or not—our troops need practice and training in these particulars, and must have it.

VII. No officer or soldier of the escort shall remove any part of his clothing or equipments. The working parties will stack their arms where they can most readily lay hold of them, will hang their equipments on the stacks, and the escort will then take charge of these.

VIII. Forage will be procured in accordance with General Orders No. 17 from these Headquarters. Forage blanks must accordingly be taken with the train.

IX. Officers and soldiers are warned not to straggle, go into houses, abuse the inhabitants, or commit any depredation whatever. Such conduct is a disgrace to the soldier, to the flag, and the cause, and it shall not be tolerated—it shall no longer go unpunished. The commanding General is resolved that the discipline of this army shall be maintained; and to that end, he will hold all officers accountable for the conduct of their men. Whenever any act of pillage, therefore, or other outrage is brought home to a particular regiment or company, and the culprits are not ferreted out and reported by the Colonel or Captain, punishment will be visited on the latter. For it is the duty of officers to enforce discipline among their men, and if they fail to do so, they will be appointed—are consequently an incubus on the service—and may rest assured that they will not be permitted to remain so.

By command of Maj. Gen. ROSECRANS.

HEAD-QUARTERS 14TH ARMY CORPS,
DEPARTMENT OF THE CUMBERLAND,
Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 14, 1862.

General Orders No. 31.

The General Commanding has received several applications from Kentuckians, who have abandoned the rebel armies, for permission to return to their homes; and he is informed that large numbers of others would make the same request of him, did they dare hope for a favorable reply. Under these circumstances the General feels called upon to define his views with relation to all this class of men, and to say what he is prepared to do in such cases.

This war is waged for the preservation of the Union of our fathers. To preserve that Union, the rebellious States must be coerced into submission. This is the one great end we have in view—and this end must and shall be attained. Without passion, from a sense of duty, trusting in the God, who abhors pride and all injustice, we march onward to that end.

That the people of the South have been deluded by ambitious demagogues, deceived by lying misrepresentations, carried away, some by natural sympathies, others by an irresistible current of circumstances—that many have even been forced into a participation in the rebellion—we well know. We both know and deplore the cruel necessities of the situation made for them by their rulers. We abhor the grinding despotism, which has devoured their substance, depopulated their valleys, converted peaceful neighborhoods into haunts of banditti, and substituted a reign of oppression and terror for the mild government under which, but two short years ago, they were so happily living. We pity them—we have pitied them, even while duty compelled us to smother the sword against them; and though, so long as they confront us in arms, our swords shall never be returned to their scabbards, we yet will gladly hail the day when this desolating and unnatural war shall cease.

For this reason, the General commanding is disposed to hold out every encouragement to these misguided men to lay down their arms, abandon the desperate cause in which they are embarked, return to their homes and families, and resume once more the tranquil occupations of peace.

All that will be exacted of those, who will honestly do so, will be to take the non-combatant's parole, and give proper security that they will keep it. So long as they faithfully observe this parole, obey the laws, and deport themselves as peaceable citizens, they shall not be molested by any officer or soldier belonging to this army.

But if, false to their pledges and ungrateful for the generosity shown them, they are found conveying information to the enemy, trafficking with him, aiding him with supplies or money, or in any other way violating the spirit of their engagements, they will be summarily dealt with, as spies or perjured traitors, with the utmost rigor allowed by the laws of war.

By command of Maj. Gen. ROSECRANS.

MONEY MARKET.

Office of the Louisville Journal, Tuesday, Dec. 9, 1862.

Money matters were unchanged yesterday, the bankers buying gold at 28 3/4 cent. premium and selling at 31 3/4 cent. The buying price for silver ranged from 21 to 22 1/2 cent. and the selling rate at from 26 to 27 1/2 cent. There were purchases of Demand Notes by the bankers at 24 3/4 cent. premium. Eastern exchange is but little wanted at 3 1/2 cent. discount buying, 3 1/2 cent. premium being the selling rate.

Dr. King's Dispensary

FOR PRIVATE DISEASES.

DR. KING, formerly of New York, for the last four years of Louisville, Ky., and who has devoted his attention to the treatment of private diseases for 30 years, suffers himself, having attended to a practice for so many years, and cured so many thousands, he is enabled to cure all diseases of a private nature, no matter how bad they may be from injudicious medical treatment, or from neglect of their own. Dr. King's Dispensary is No. 23 Denderick street, between Cherry and the Square, second story, where he cures all diseases of a private nature.

Gonorrhea cured without nauseous medicines or interference with business. Sufferers of old or recent date effectively cured in a few days, by an operation which causes no pain. Where a stricture exists health cannot be enjoyed. Perhaps no disease causes more mischief and undermines the constitution as much.

Syphilis, with all the diseases of the skin, growing out of neglect or bad treatment, can be effectively cured in a few days.

Scrofula—Particular attention having been given to this disease, and all the consequences growing out of it, brought on in many cases by the destructive habits of inconsiderate youth, and excessive indulgence of the passions, a method of which will undermine the constitution, rendering the subject unfit for business or society, and causing premature old age.

Persons who may be laboring with any difficulty of the Womb may rest assured of immediate relief. Persons residing abroad, by writing and stating their case, with a few lines, direct to Dr. A. King, No. 23 Denderick street, Nashville, Tenn., will have the necessary medicines sent to their address. Office hours from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 in the evening. (July 10—In adw.)

Horse Stolen.

FROM in front of Mr. BARNETT'S RESTAURANT, on Cedar street, at about 6 o'clock P. M. on Friday, a Brown Horse, about fifteen and a half hands high, six years old, roan mane and tail, small head, white dished, with an officer's saddle, and a light English leather rolled bridle.

Any one returning the same to me, will be handsomely rewarded.
